School Board Approves Plan For CWA Work

Extensive Improvement Program Is Outlined For Start At Once

WILL USE BRICK FROM MARTIN GANTZ SCHOOL

Wall Will Be Erected At Corner Of Stadium Plot To Cut Off View

Meeting in regular session Wednesday night, the New Castle school board approved the recommendations of the building committee in requesting a number of improvements under the CWA, added a number of painting jobs to the original plan, will probably include an 8-foot wall at the Franklin stadium to shut out the free spectators, and authorized the board business manager to advertise for bids for the materials necessary.

The list of work to be done in the schools is an extensive one and represents work that is necessary, that will save the tax payers money in the next two years, and will provide labor for such craftsmen as bricklayers, carpenters, stone masons, painters, possibly plumbers and common labor. By all odds the school board's program under the CWA is the most comprehensive of all the county programs.

Bauman Lists Projects
A. W. Bauman, of the Building Committee first reported the projects that had been approved by the informal meeting of the board a few days ago.

This list includes the following:
West Side. Pointing building and chimney. Remodel basement.
Croton. Pointing building. Building a wall on grounds.
Terrace. Pointing building and stacks.

Senior High. Repairs to store work roofing building, pointing building. Mahoning. Pointing building and repairs to store work.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Today is the 134th anniversary of the death of George Washington.

Victor Zarilla of Ashland avenue has returned from a hunting trip in Cross Forks. He bagged a prize deer.

To an Ohio motorist goes the champion skidding record of 1933. Pa. News is told that on last Sunday night an Ohio licensed car started skidding at the very peak of the Jefferson street hill and made the entire trip down, sideways. As the hill was void of other cars at the time, the trip did not end disastrously.

The intersection of West North and North Beaver street should be watched carefully by motorists who take a pride in fenders that are without dings.

Two bright new automobiles, both being driven by women who had been doing some Christmas shopping downtown, were suffering from a case of locked bumpers on Washington street yesterday. The two ladies looked on with dismay as a corps of men endeavored to disentangle the two cars.

After tomorrow the bucks of the Pennsylvania woods who are fortunate enough to escape the slings and arrows of enthusiastic hunters will be able to settle down to family life in comparative safety for another year.

See Prosecution Of Mob In San Jose Lynchings

(International News Service)
SAN JOSE, Cal., Dec. 14.—Public opinion in San Jose apparently will support prosecution of the ring-leaders of the mob that lynched Thomas H. Thurmond and Jack Holmes for the kidnap murder of Brooke Hart.

Following the arrest of Anthony Cataldi, 18, who assertedly boasted he was the "Paul Revere" of the lynch mob, leading citizens here expressed the opinion that there was no alternative but for officials to proceed with the prosecution of those who may be charged with participation.

However, there was a mild undercurrent of resentment expressed by some citizens against what they termed "interference" on the part of the American Civil Liberties Union. Attorneys for this organization presented evidence to the district attorney.

Must Consider Oath
Though not included to discuss the case, C. B. Goodman, city manager, said:

"Right thinking officials must consider their oath of office. The youth arrested in connection with the crime should have been arrested three weeks ago, without waiting for the American Civil Liberties Union to step in."

Goodman asserted that at the

LEAPS FROM BRIDGE RAIL INTO FROZEN NESHANNOCK

Apparently led on by some strange obsession, George Randall, aged about 49 years, residing at 21 West North street, took a leap from the railing of the East Washington street bridge to the ice of the Neshannock creek below, shortly before noon today. He dropped about 20 feet in the jump and when he struck the ice he was rendered unconscious.

Police rescued him from the ice, and took him to the New Castle hospital, where it is stated that he is feared to have a fractured ankle, fractured hip and possible internal injuries.

According to reports of witnesses, Randall climbed up on the bridge railing, near the northeast end of the bridge, looked up for a few seconds and then leaped off.

Spectators who witnessed the leap called police from the city hall nearby. Chief Haven and a squad of officers rushed over to the bridge. Noting that Randall was apparently unconscious on the ice below, Haven sent City Detective Thomas Lynch down to the ice to put a rope around his body, and Randall was drawn up to the bridge. He was placed in a police car and sent to the hospital.

Enroute to the hospital, Randall revived somewhat, regaining consciousness. He said that he jumped from the bridge because his faith was tested and he was obliged to make the leap, police report.

At the hospital the attending physician said that an examination showed Randall probably had a fractured ankle and hip, and also had other injuries.

Question Man In Murder Case In Venango Co.

(International News Service)

CLARION, Pa., Dec. 14.—Robert Miller, 25, today was held in county jail here for questioning in connection with the murder of Clark N. Witherup, 52, Venango county oil operator, whose body was found late yesterday wrapped in a heavy blanket.

Witherup had been shot in the back of the head.

According to Sheriff E. M. Voorhies of Clarion county, Witherup was apparently the victim of a robbery. The sheriff said Witherup had been robbed of approximately $100 which he obtained from the sale of oil from his wells. The oil man had been missing since Saturday.

Voorhies denied a report that the man had been kidnapped.

Near the spot where the body was found were indications of a tussle between the victim and his attacker.

Allen Returns From Abroad

A New Castle industrial executive, returning home today from a month's business tour through the British Isles, pictured business there as "far better than our own."

At least that was the observation made by Lee E. Allen, secretary of the Pennsylvania Engineering works who returned to New Castle this morning after visiting the vast industrial sections of England, Scotland and Wales. Mr. Allen spent 37 days on foreign soil.

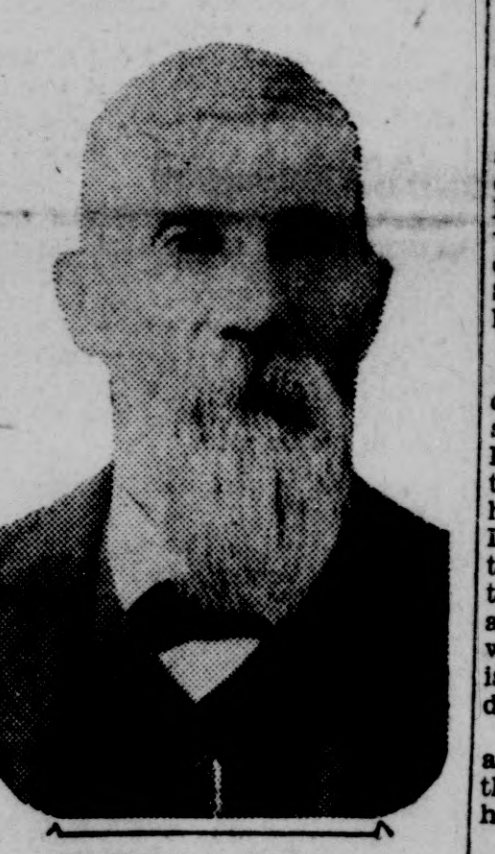

Mr. Allen left New Castle to visit Great Britain's larger industrial centers partly as a guest of the foreign companies and partly on business for his concern. He returned with a number of orders for his company.

Pittston Township Schools Close, Coal Supply Gone, No Money For Teachers

(International News Service)
WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Dec. 14.—Exhaustion of the coal supply at all Pittston township schools where 34 teachers are striking for payment of back salaries forced every school to close today giving a vacation to 1,000 students.

Four teachers who refused to join the strike, the second with the past month, were unable to teach because the fuel supply is depleted and the district is without funds to make purchases.

Greeted by the cold buildings, the remaining four teachers and 300 students returned to their homes this morning.

New York Girl Is Murdered; Revenge Act

Margie Piletsky, Known As Marian Smith, Dies For Giving Information

HELPED TO SEND TWO TO PRISON

Ice Man Finds Pretty Raven Haired Girl Garroted With Electric Cord

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—An unidentified underworld figure—a reputed killer said to have slipped through police fingers several times today was sought as the slayer who wrapped an electric cord around the throat of pretty, raven-haired Margie Piletsky, known to Broadway's night spots as Marian Smith, and strangled her to death for fear she might make further revelations to police.

For Margie it was disclosed today had been under police guard for the past ten months as a material witness in connection with the year-old murder of Joseph Mortillaro. Eleven days ago she was released from the Bronx county jail, where she had been held under guard for fear underworld vengeance would be visited on her.

Tongue Silenced
The girl, police said, had been guarded because of information she had given them concerning the slaying of Mortillaro. As a result of her disclosures, George De Perno is now serving a 20-year-to-life sentence in Dannemora prison, and Irving Leder is doing a five-year "stretch" in Sing Sing in connection with the same murder.

But it was fear—the fear of the actual slayer that Margie might disclose his identity—which brought her death, detectives were convinced as they probed into the life of the pretty girl who came from Shenandoah, Pa., to seek stage fame here.

Gave Testimony
Margie did not testify at the trial of De Perno and Leder, but, police said, she and Billie Curnow, De Perno's girl friend, had seen Mortillaro leave an uptown apartment house in company with De Perno, Leder and a third man whose identity police refused to divulge. Mortillaro never came back from the auto ride he started on. His body was found a few days later in an isolated section of the Bronx, riddled with bullets.

A card bearing the address of an apartment house where Margie and the Curnow girl lived was found on his body. Police questioned the two (Continued on Page Two)

United States To Get About 5 Per Cent On Debts Due On Friday

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—This government will receive only about five per cent of the $153,000,000 due from the European debtor nations tomorrow on their Dec. 15 installments.

This was learned today as it became evident the debtor nations were succeeding in their efforts to whittle down even the small so-called "token" payments some of them have been making to avoid the stigma of default.

France Defaults.
France again will lead her satellites, Belgium, Poland and Estonia, in defaulting for the third time on the debt payments due this country.

Following quickly in the wake of this announcement came official notification from Belgium and Estonia that they would not make any payments. Similar word from Poland was expected.

Austria and Hungary, both of which although not French satellites are in dire financial straits, also notified this government of intention to default. The general excuse again was incapacity to pay.

The total amount on which these defaulting nations have failed to make payments, including past installments, is approximately $107,000,000. When added to the unpaid balances of those nations which have made small token payments, this will make the United States the loser by approximately $300,000,000 on the total amount due from the debtor nations during the past 12 months.

Finland Pays In Full.
Finland once again will be the only debtor to meet its obligations in full. That little republic already has notified (Continued on Page Two)

Seven Of Children Met Instant Death; Accident In Isolated Area

(BULLETIN)

CRESCENT CITY, Fla., Dec. 14.—Eight school children were reported killed and 17 others critically injured today in a crash between a heavily loaded school bus and a northbound Atlantic Coast Line train five miles from here.

The train plowed into the crowded bus on a "blind" crossing in a fog-weathered countryside.

The vehicle was struck admidships, dragged down the track and the wreckage, containing the mangled forms of the victims, tossed aside before the train could be brought to a halt.

Community Isolated.
Bodies of the child victims were scattered along the right of way. Isolation of the community made a definite checkup of casualties difficult.

Physicians and all available ambulances were summoned from Palatka, 21 miles away.

Seven of the children met instant death. Another died of injuries a few minutes later. Other deaths, physicians said, were feared.

Several of those injured were badly mangled. The injured were rushed to the two hospitals at Palatka.

Aiken. Pointing building. Repairs to brick and stone work. Building a walk up from Shady side to accommodate pupils. Building a wall.

Lincoln-Garfield. Pointing brick and stone work. New roof on gym.

Oak street. Pointing building and wood repairs.

Thaddeus Stevens. Pointing up building and stone work. Repair gutter and down spouting and new tin work. Wall back of school.

Rose avenue. Grading a play ground.

Benjamin Franklin. Putting a new roof on the building. Pointing the rooms that need it. Probably use the old brick from Martin Gantz to build a wall on DuShane and Division streets at Franklin stadium.

George Washington Junior High. Grading playground in accordance with state plan.

Martin Gantz. Razing the old building and grading the site.

Following the reading of the recommendations, a general discussion took place. Commenting upon the new roof for Benjamin Franklin school Mr. Bauman said, "this roof is bad. It looks good but an examination proves that it isn't. For years the company laying the roof has made an effort to repair it and has spent many times the profit it got on the job. The trouble seems to be that the roofing materials was laid on concrete and the heat underneath and the cold above causes expansion and contraction."

Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds Ligo said "we spend about $300 per year repairing plaster destroyed by leaks in the roof. In addition the water is ruining the metal lathing and if it continues this will be lost also."

Demand Skilled Labor

Said Duff, "If we go into this work I think it should be understood that only skilled workmen should be employed on skilled jobs. In other words, we ought to know that when a painting job is being done that a qualified painter is doing it. That when a brick wall is built a bricklayer should do it and so on. I also think that the board should be assured that the supervision of the entire list of projects should be in the hands of a man we know to be qualified to superintend the work."

Said McIlvenny, "I understand the building trades men are working with Administrator L. B. Round in seeing that he has a list of skilled men who are now unemployed."

Need Reviving

Said Dr. W. D. Cleland, "I am in favor of all these improvements but I would be more in favor of using some of the money and labor to rewire some of the school rooms. The lighting is bad and affects the children's health."

Said R. W. Hazen, "This is a pretty large order and I am wondering if we have the money available to purchase the materials necessary. No question about the advisability of getting the work done and I am not interposing any objection, but as a member of the former Budget Committee I am wondering about the money."

The budget was brought out and examined and it was found that some of the delinquent tax money recently received from the county treasurer was available.

Painting Rooms

The necessity of painting 56 class rooms in the Senior High school and about 40 class rooms and the gymnasium and auditorium in the Franklin Junior high was the first item on the board's agenda. The board decided to include these jobs in the CWA projects. The work will probably have to be done over week ends, it would be inadvisable to do it during the week and have the paint smell inconveniencing the children. Because of the legal necessity of advertising three weeks for materials bids it will be impossible to do it during the Christmas holidays.

Following this, a letter was received from George D. Blair, Jr., a member of the Athletic Council who suggested that some of the old brick of the Martin Gantz school be used in building an eight foot wall on DuShane street and Division streets at the Taggart Stadium to stop the practice of thousands of people seeing the game free.

To Build Wall

A. C. Hyde, said, "The free customers are ruining the fence out there and I think it would be a savings to us to build the wall. We have been unable to replace the canvas wall we had and this brick wall could be built at a cost no more than the canvas, due to the CWA and the old brick we will have available."

S. G. Ligo, superintendent of buildings and grounds explained that the crowds standing outside the stadium were heavy and that one "free" customer had complained bitterly to him because a pickpocket had robbed him of a wallet containing fifty dollars. The brick wall went into the project approved.

McIlvenny then moved that the board authorize the Business manager to advertise or bid for the painting, roofing materials, and slate necessary to make the improvements and this was done.

Work will be rushed on the jobs for they mean labor for scores of men both skilled and unskilled.

UNITED STATES TO GET ABOUT 5 PER CENT ON DEBTS DUE ON FRIDAY

fied the state department of its intention to pay the $229,623 installment due tomorrow.

Great Britain and Czechoslovakia have succeeded in scaling down their token payments. Britain will pay $7,500,000 on $117,870,765 due as compared with $10,000,000 on the $75,950,000 due last June. Czechoslovakia will pay $150,000 on $1,865,624 as compared with $180,000 on $1,500,000 last June.

Both claimed the reduction on the grounds that they are not being permitted to make the payment in silver this time, the congressional authorization for such payments having expired last month.

The largest percentage payment will come from Italy, which intends to pay $1,000,000, or approximately 50 per cent of the amount due.

Latvia intends to pay about $8,500 on $180,705 due while Lithuania is expected to pay about $10,000 on $105,473.

Acting Secretary of State William Phillips endeavored to induce some of the debtors, especially Czechoslovakia, to pay a little more but they remained steadfast. "Take it or leave it," was their attitude.

The approximate figure of five per cent which this government will receive on the installments represents half of the time-on-the-dollar settlement which Europe wanted this nation to take in connection with the Lausanne agreement.

Under that so-called "gentlemen's agreement" the former European allied nations agreed to reduce Germany's reparations payments by 90 per cent providing they obtained a similar reduction in their debts to the United States. This government flatly rejected the settlement as too low.

freight train, plunging this small Florida community, gay with pre-Christmas festivities, into mourning.

Twelve other children were so badly mangled physicians feared they may die, and at least eight others, including the bus driver, were seriously injured.

Bodies of the little victims were so badly mangled that Dr. E. W. Ford of Crescent City, said it was impossible immediately to determine the number of dead.

Fog that enshrouded the southeast seaboard in an almost impenetrable blanket was blamed for the crash.

The bus, crowded with children in elementary and high school grades being brought from their rural homes to school here, crept onto the crossing five miles from here as an Atlantic Coast Line freight rumbled northward. The bus seated more than 40 children and school officials feared it was filled.

Plunging through the blinding fog, the freight struck the bus squarely amidship, hurled it down the track several hundred feet before the train could be halted, and then flung the wreckage aside.

young women and a short time later De Perno and Leder were arrested. According to police, they uncovered a tangled story, indicating Mortillaro had tried to "cut out" De Perno from the affections of the Curnow girl and had attacked her once in her apartment.

One Way Ride

She informed De Perno, who was enraged. A few days later Mortillaro went for the one-way ride, accompanied by De Perno, Leder and the third man.

The two girls were placed in the Bronx county jail as material witnesses but were never called to the witness stand. De Perno and Leder were sentenced in November. Eleven days ago the girls were released.

Found By Ice Man

The Curnow girl fell immediately for her home in Vancouver, B. C., her mother sent an up-town apartment and stayed in New York. It was there she was found strangled yesterday by an ice man who investigated when he saw a light burning in the bed room. He found her body on the bed, the electric light cord wrapped tightly around her throat, her face battered, and summoned police.

Check of an address book and of two insurance policies disclosed Margie came from the Pennsylvania mining town, where she has a 4-year-old son. One of the insurance policies, for $2,000, named the boy, John Crichton, son of an early and unsuccessful marriage, a beneficiary. The other policy, for $1,000, named Margie's father, Andrew, as beneficiary.

Was Going Home

Margie was going home, according to evidence in the apartment. Piled on a table near the bed where she was strangled, were several packages marked "not to be opened until Christmas." In them, police said, were toys and other gifts apparently intended for her son.

Local police said the girl had also been reported living in Philadelphia and associated with police characters there for a time.

"She was just a girl 'rom a little town that came to New York and got mixed up with the wrong crowd," detectives said.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative or cathartic and expect them to make you suddenly alert and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, aromatic, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Recent substitute, 22c at drug stores.

OPTIMISM REIGNS

NEW CASTLE stores are inviting places these days. Sparkling Christmas merchandise and decorations in keeping with the season give them an atmosphere of cheer that is appealing.

Yes, the depression is still on, it is true. Many persons continue to receive charitable aid. But that conditions are improving here as elsewhere throughout the state and nation few will dispute. Optimism and confidence are growing.

This finds reflection in the crowds of shoppers on the streets and in the stores. How liberally they are buying, we don't know, but they do appear to be doing considerable in this line. It is their apparent intention to make it a merry Christmas for themselves and others.

This is a good sign. It shows the people are losing their fear. It will mean an additional boost for returning prosperity as the money being released flows through wide trade channels and creates work for others.

The situation here is being duplicated in thousands of places all over the nation. Reports indicate that Christmas buying is proceeding at an unusually encouraging rate. Stores and other places are taking on additional employees to take care of the demands.

We believe no city of its size can excel New Castle from the standpoint of up-to-date stores and up-to-date merchandise. Local merchants have provided fresh stocks of seasonal goods and the latter are displayed so attractively that it is hard to resist the temptation to buy.

Christmas here, from all present indications, will be a merry one.

FOOTBALL LESS DANGEROUS

The returns are in and football apparently is becoming less of a menace to life. Twenty-six young men died this year from causes directly due to the game and ten more through indirect causes. The grim total was not so great as last year or the year before. Not a college varsity player died from injuries this year. Five freshmen succumbed, of whom two gave their lives directly. There were fifty deaths from football two years ago and thirty-eight last year.

Twenty-six deaths directly attributable to the game are bad enough, certainly, but at least they are growing fewer. New rules and new safeguards for players are beginning to show results. No one can estimate with any authority how many boys and girls (there was one girl in the death list for the year, in a neighborhood group) engaged in supervised and unsupervised play, but the number was in the millions. As a rule the deaths were due to lack of knowledge of how to protect the players from harm, rather than any danger inherent in the game.

There is still much to do, of course. Any young life is too high a price to pay. But changes in the rules to make football less dangerous are bearing fruit. Certainly the game is more entertaining to watch than in the old days of mass plays and concealed roughness.

AMERICA FINDING ITSELF

There are no better appraisers of actualities and trends in a nation than competent foreign correspondents of independent newspapers. Their profession makes them sensitive to currents of opinion and enables them to discover the grain of truth amid the heaps of chaff. They see in bold outline or subtle coloration what frequently escapes the resident observer whose duties rarely permit him to take his eye off the ball. The returned foreign correspondent tends to evaluate his own country by the canons he uses abroad.

Observations of a veteran correspondent like Edgar Ansel Mower accordingly possess exceptional merit. Mr. Mower is not given to flattery. He criticizes America's national foibles as candidly as those of Germany or Italy. Five years ago he published in book form a biting analysis of contemporary American civilization and its impact upon Europe, which he found far from beneficial to the old world. At that time he thought he saw emerging in this country some of the elements of decay which laid low the Roman empire, between whose history and America's there are not a few parallels.

Mr. Mower gleaned these unfavorable impressions of America during a visit home in 1927. He was not altogether reassured by the America he revisited in 1930. But three months of residence and travel among us in 1933 have revealed to him a new and better America. The collapse of the boom era of the '20s, he believes, has saved the country from the historical ash-can. Americans are less self-satisfied as a people and as individuals. For the good life, more are falling back upon their own intellectual resources, instead of relying solely upon material things for happiness. Much of our fancied wealth having melted away, we are less easily subjugated by what remains. We have a salutary skepticism about ourselves, our institutions and our ideas.

Mr. Mower bases his conclusions on visits to fifteen representative American cities. If they are valid, and there is much to confirm them, it would seem that American society is casting off some of its adolescent hand-overs and maturing in a manner which argues well for the future. We have by no means turned our backs to the perilous path of the caesars, but we are acquiring a new and saving appreciation of those sturdier virtues found more often in the Roman republic than in the empire. Nothing can justify the miseries arising from the present depression, but if our experience enables us to avert a repetition of the follies of the '20s we shall not have suffered altogether in vain.—Chicago Daily News.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

DO YOU SAY WHAT YOU THINK?

I'm not so sure that "saying just what you think" is a virtue. Sometimes you say what you think and you bring great happiness into another's life. You praise him, hearten him, just when he is in most need of encouragement. But sometimes you say what you think and you scar him forever. You hurt him. You shame him. You destroy the fond illusion by which he lives and is happy. He tries to throw off your frank remark, but he cannot quite do so. The memory of what you said rankles and remains and he cannot forget it.

If you said always what you thought, you might find yourself walking up to strangers and complimenting them on their good complexions, beautiful eyes, excellent taste in dress. . . . On the other hand you might find yourself saying such things as this: "Why don't you have that wart taken off your chin? . . . You shouldn't wear a necktie of that color. . . . Do you eat the right things? If you did you wouldn't have such a bad complexion. . . . Why don't you stand straighter? You have some egg on your collar." Yes, and might be sorry you said them.

I've noticed, and you have, too, that the man (or the woman) who prides himself on always saying just what he thinks rarely has pleasant things to say. His mind doesn't search for compliments; instead, it attracts criticism. It is not friendly, it is antagonistic. . . . He helps people rarely; he raps them more than he soothes them. He has more enemies than friends. . . . Finally his critical attitude becomes a habit that is too much for him. Despite himself he is always saying things that hurt other people and cause them to dislike him. And their dislike reacts upon him and increases his caustic bitterness. He becomes a grouch.

No, I can't be enthusiastic about "saying what you think." My vote is for that gentle hypocrisy which makes the social relations of human beings so much easier and happier. . . . I do not ask my friend to flatter me, but I ask him to be kind. Or a little blind. Let him tell me things for my own good, but not on every occasion that we meet.

YOU MAY BE "FUNNY" TOO. If your penchant is for making sport of the peculiarities or the infirmities of others, it might do you good to know the general verdict.

Your friends tolerate it because you are "like that." To be sure, they have each been hurt, it stung for a while; perhaps some had a sense of humor and that outweighed the cutting, mocking words.

In company, those who know you least, and do not know the ones of whom you speak so vividly derisive, for a time or two will call you "lots of fun." But when a loyal friend of those of whom you speak heartlessly and disrespectfully, just "in fun" hear your remarks, you won't get so much of a laugh as you will a sense of resentment.

Your remarks are too trivial to be worth picking up, but they leave a bad taste in the mouth. All of this may be your affair if you choose to play such a role.

But if you are aiming to have more than a local good standing it won't get you anywhere and will be an actual set back to your ambitions.

None care to run the risk of your tongue in playful mood. Those nearest to you may love you too much to tell you all this or they may have become accustomed to your unkind jibes and know they are said with no malice.

But most people have some regard for the target.

TWO WAYS OF SAYING "NO" Some men say "No" so easily. As if the lines of care Deep-printed for the world to see Were vainly 'graven there.

But little time have they to spend With strangers' grief and pain. Quickly the plea for aid they end And get to work again.

Others with tenderness regard The obvious signs of woe And plainly show they find it hard To have to answer "No."

They give up time to troubled men To hear their stories through, Lending an ear in pity, when There's nothing they can do.

Since all must often answer "No" Throughout the busy day, 'Tis very difficult to know Which is the better way. (Copyright, 1933, Edgar A. Guest)

High Court Ruling Awaited In Florida Recovery Test Case

Some Observers Think, However, That Public Opinion Gives Administration All Power Needed To Deal With Emergency

Decision by a federal judge in Florida adverse to NRA rules as applied to local business brings out considerable comment to the effect that the United States Supreme Court must step in and determine the matter.

"If it turns out that the law and the codes may not be applied in some of these minor cases," suggests the PORT HURON TIMES HERALD, however, "the NRA should be able to make the necessary adjustments, and go right along with the larger efforts that will be really effective in giving business and industry the boost they need." The CONNELLSVILLE COURIER holds that "the significance of the decision is that a test of the NRA act is sure to be made, but until it is brought to a final decision, it cannot be accepted as proof that the NRA is unconstitutional." The ROCK ISLAND ARGUS believes that "national emergency undoubtedly will be urged, if the NRA ever gets to a test before the Supreme Court," and observes that "should a decision be made adverse to the NRA, it would bring about a very complicated situation."

"The power of public opinion" is seen by the HOUSTON CHRONICLE as back of the NRA rules, with the declaration that this was "the sole power relied on by President Roosevelt in establishing the blanket code for all industries." The Chronicle concludes: "Just as observance of the blanket code, which was unenforceable in law, was easily secured by real-estate firms because public opinion was behind it, so observance of NRA rules by interstate business can be required." The KANSAS CITY STAR points out that the NRA has been successful in court tests at other points in the country, and concludes: "If these decisions are to be taken as indications, basic provisions of the NRA are to be regarded favorably by the legal tribunals of the country. The issue will not be determined finally, however, until the Supreme Court has spoken on the constitutionality of the central principle of industrial control."

"The framers of the constitution," in the opinion of the San Jose Mercury Herald, "recognized war as an emergency and conferred the war power on the federal government. It may do, the supreme court holds, whatever is necessary or proper to give effect to war powers. No emergency other than war is mentioned. The Florida federal judge held this meant the framers had discussed the question of emergency and decided to recognize none save war. To hold the depression is an emergency lets down the bars. If congress may, under the pressure of popular feeling, declare one economic situation to be an emergency, it may declare others to be. At the last session it even effected itself and conferred its legislative powers on the president. Whether it is wise to establish the precedent that what congress, under pressure, conceives to be an emergency suspends the constitution is a proposition the American citizen will do well to think through." The WALL STREET JOURNAL makes the comment: "Unless reversed by the supreme court that decision, that the federal government has no jurisdiction in matters purely local, stands as law without questioning its right to move in matters relating to interstate commerce in such manner as may be necessary to meet the problems with which it is confronted. If purely local businesses must be regulated to insure the success of the recovery effort the Akerman decision would call for parallel state legislation to effect it." The Wall Street paper voices the need of "an authoritative decision."

"Some of the small business executives," states the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, "are faced with the necessity of complying with not only one but half a dozen codes because of the diversity in their products. To refuse to comply is to run the risk of punishment. To comply involves an insupportable expense. That there is doubt among the NRA administrators as to their powers is shown by their comment on the Florida case. 'There is no doubt,' said the chief counsel, 'that the recovery act as a whole is constitutional.' There is in that and in subsequent sentences, a tacit admission of uncertainty that make a high court decision desirable."

Everyone knows how railroad men treat trucks. The "Baggage Smasher" joke is an old, old one, but here is a new angle. "Here," shouted a railroad official, at a big terminal, "what do you mean by throwing those trucks about like that?"

The porter gasped in astonishment, and several passengers pinched themselves to make sure that it was real. Then the official again spoke to the porter.

"Don't you see that you're making big dents in the concrete platform?"

Will Put School Improvement At Wampum To Vote

Citizens Will Be Given Opportunity To Vote On Proposed Bond Issue

NEED IS SHOWN FOR AUDITORIUM

(Special To The News.) WAMPUM, Dec. 14.—Following a mass meeting of citizens called by President Charles S. Ferguson of the school board, here last evening, a resolution was presented and adopted authorizing the school board to submit a proposal to bond the school district in the sum of $15,000 to construct a combination gymnasium and auditorium, to the vote of the people.

President Ferguson announced that the board will meet to consider this action early next week.

There was a good representation of the citizenry present at the meeting last evening, and the consensus of opinion was that the improvement was badly needed. However, it was shown that the board could not borrow the necessary funds without a special vote of the citizens, as the school district has already borrowed up to its capacity.

A. L. Thayer of the Thayer company, New Castle, explained the plans which have been outlined for the proposed improvement. President Ferguson gave a statement, showing the condition of the school district, financially, while County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling explained the federal assistance plan.

It is proposed to borrow $15,000 on a bond issue, providing the other $5,000 necessary to finance the project will be loaned by the government under the public works assistance fund.

National Labor Board Is Faced With Showdown

Must Prove At Steel Elections In West Virginia That There Is Teeth In The NRA

ELECTIONS WILL OCCUR ON FRIDAY

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The National Labor Board today faced the necessity of proving with direct action that there are teeth in the NRA and the presidential order under which the board was created.

The board's persistent efforts to obtain a supervised election of workers' representatives at plants of the National Steel Co. in West Virginia and lower Ohio have met with complete failure.

E. T. Weir, president of the company, has denied the board's authority, which its chairman, Senator Robert F. Wagner (D) New York, claims is backed by all the authority of the president and the recovery act.

Will Vote Friday
In addition Weir withdrew from a signed agreement with the board under which he assented to board regulation of an election this week in the plants of the company.

The labor board set tomorrow as the date for the election, but the company has since ruled that election supervisors appointed by the board are to be thrown bodily off company property if they attempt to go near the appointed polling places.

Meanwhile the company union hastily formed last June when it became known the steel industry would be put under a code guaranteeing workers the right to unionize, went ahead with plans to conduct the election tomorrow in its own fashion.

Under the company union rules, the steel workers will be compelled to write on ballots the names of choice. As many of the workers cannot read or write, they will be "voted" by foremen, it was charged.

Baffled in their attempts to arrange a supervised election, John F. Dewey and Jesse I. Miller, mediators of the board, returned to Washington late yesterday and attended an executive session of the board.

Richberg Summoned
Senator Wagner also summoned to the meeting Donald R. Richberg, chief counsel of the NRA, and other legal advisers of the recovery administration.

None of those who attended the executive session would comment when the meeting broke up late last night. It was expected, however, that the board today would seek to obtain in federal court an injunction restraining Weir and other officials of the steel company from interfering with fair election plans of the board.

In addition, code violation charges against the company may be filed with the attorney general. Conviction on these charges would make Weir liable to all the heavy penalties that may be imposed under the recovery act.

Harold Neal Case In Hands Of Jury

Grew Out Of Altercation With Hunters Over Hunting On Neal Property

The case of Harold Neal, Pulaski township farmer charged with pointing firearms at E. E. Gosnell which was tried before Judge R. L. Hildebrand went to the jury this afternoon and at noon today the jury was still out.

The testimony showed that there was a hunting party in the vicinity of the Neal farm. Neal had ordered hunters of his farm, and later met some of them on the public highway, where an altercation took place.

Neal had a gun in his hand, it is claimed that during the altercation he was pointed at Gosnell. Neal did not have the gun to his shoulder at this time, but was holding it in front of him according to the testimony. Neal claimed that he had no intention of shooting.

Clintonville Man Is Slain

Body Of Missing Man Found Concealed Near Knox, Pa.

CLARION, Pa., Dec. 14.—The body of Clark Witherup, 50, oil producer of Clintonville, Venango county, was found Wednesday under a bridge near Knox, with a bullet wound in the head and trussed in blankets and pillows. He was the victim of kidnappers and robbers, police declare.

The body was discovered by two boys, sons of William and Harvey Knight, who reside on the Elm-Kossuth road, near Knox.

Witherup had been missing since Saturday, when he disappeared mysteriously from an oil lease on his farm, after talking to motorists who apparently had stopped to inquire road directions. His son, Walter Witherup, 19, told police that he and his father had started home from the lease when the elder man was hailed by a motor party.

The boy walked on home, and when his father failed to appear, notified Venango county authorities. An intensive search of a wide territory by police and posses of deer hunters failed to reveal a clue to Witherup's fate.

Identification of the slain man's body was made by means of a key ring on which his name was etched. Witherup's son said his father had a considerable sum of money in his clothes when he disappeared.

Sheriff E. M. Vorhees of Franklin today broadcast a description of the car, driven by the kidnappers and murder suspects. He also said he had the license number of the machine, and that old bedclothing in the pump house on the Witherup oil lease was missing.

At least it can be said, in defense of Garbo, that no other actress could fill her shoes.

Observations In 7th Ward

One of the local business men suggests that CWA workmen be engaged to put the road leading from West Clayton street west to the old Linville farm on West Washington street extension into shape for travel.

In "The Methodist Review," a pamphlet issued by the local Methodist Epworth League, the following list of past ministers appears. These men served from 1876 to 1887: J. Crum, R. M. Bear, J. M. Crouch, W. S. Shepperd, John Eckels, J. K. Mendenhall, J. C. Rhodes, J. M. Foster, F. R. Peters.

Numerous "cut-outs" of Santa Claus have made their appearance on the windows of Mahoning school. . . . A sled-rider came down Wilder avenue yesterday afternoon and rubbed noses with death at the intersection of Liberty street. . . . Local man suggests that, if the old Mahoning road should be fixed up by CWA men, Lafayette street be cut through to meet the road. . . . Q. E. Davy was recent re-elected superintendent of the local M. E. Sunday school, with Loy Gwin as assistant. . . . Clayton street hunter who shot a deer, loaded it into the back seat of his car and then left to return to camp for awhile. The deer came to life for a few "last words" and kicked the glass out of the car window.

Benefit To AllUniform Market Price For Used Cars Is Established By Code

According to A. C. Bennett, motor vehicle administrator of zone 5, which includes Lawrence county among the nine counties in its district, the new motor vehicle retailing code now in effect will be a benefit not only to the dealer but also to the motorist with a used car to trade.

"In the official guide, the dealers have the market price for practically every type of automobile in use. This price, obtained by averaging prices paid for old cars during September, October and part of November, is the market price for the vehicle, and as much a market quotation as a figure chalked up for wheat in the grain pit at Chicago," Mr. Bennett stated.

Recognizing price variations in different parts of the country, the entire United States has been divided into 20 districts, for each of which a separate guide is issued.

The present guide will remain in effect until about January 10, when a new issue, with averages based on used car sales during December, will be published. Thereafter, new issues of the guide will be distributed monthly.

It is the administrator's opinion that the prices in the current guide "are at least as good, and probably better, than the figures prevailing before the system went into effect." As these averages are based on prices paid during the fall, "they represent the average of sales during a period of limited supply and unusual demand," he said.

A short business meeting opened the session, with J. B. Watson presiding. The banner for attendance was again awarded Mr. McCracken's room.

Louis B. Round of the Pennsylvania Power company was introduced as the speaker of the evening and he gave an inspirational and interesting talk on "Faith."

The high school boys' chorus sang two numbers, "Cornfield Melody" and "She'll Be Comin' Round the Mountain." The Steve string quartet presented several selections. Miss Kimes and Mrs. C. L. Hunt had a piano duet, "Yuletide Bells," after which the group sang "Faith of Our Fathers."

A social period followed, with the men serving the refreshments.

Naval Fliers Willing To Try
For Mass Flight Around
World

(International News Service)
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Dec. 14.—A plan outlined here today by the United States Navy in the forefront of aviation progress may come to complete fulfillment with a mass flight of naval planes around the world.

But the man who fathered the plan did not live to see his dreams come true. He was the late Admiral William A. Moffett, who lost his life in the crash of the dirigible Akron. Success or failure of the massed non-stop hop of six giant navy planes from San Francisco to Hawaii next month will determine whether the flyers will continue on a round-the-world flight. International News Service learned from an unofficial but authoritative source.

Although Rear Admiral Alfred W. Johnson, commander of the fleet air base force here, declined to verify the report he said he "hoped such a flight could be accomplished by naval fliers."

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily
Mixed at Home

No Cooking! No Work! Real Saving!

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough can be conquered, until you try this recipe. It is used in more homes than any other cough remedy, because it gives more prompt, positive relief. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex; then add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. This gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money, and it's a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes fine.

Instantly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm, clears the air passages, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief in severe coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, used for generations for its healing effect on throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Report Is Made To School Board In West Side Case On Hiring Of Janitress

Following a thorough investigation, the committee of school board members appointed to investigate certain charges made by Mrs. Margaret Mooney, returned their report Wednesday night to the board and the incident closed.

The investigating committee was named a month ago when Mrs. Mooney charged that she had been displaced as a janitress by Joseph Patterson of the West Side school to make room for a relative, and that she had had to return some money paid her for service, to Mr. Patterson.

The report of the committee absolves Mr. Patterson of any wrongdoing, recommends certain changes in the hiring of janitors, and urges care in the selection of janitors.

One Check For Two

The committee reported that in August 1932, Mrs. Mooney had been given a check for $7.50 for some work done as a janitress, but that she had worked but nine hours in that month prior to the opening of school. The week prior to this Mr. Patterson's son had worked a full week cleaning the school and inasmuch as $7.50 had been allotted for extra help, Mr. Patterson asked if it would be all right to have one check drawn for the $7.50, giving Mrs. Mooney $3.50 for her 9 hours work and his son the $4.00 for the week he worked. This was explained to Mrs. Mooney and understood by her the committee said.

The committee said in its report that Mrs. Mooney had been hired after Mrs. Dougherty had requested Mr. Ligo to put her on. It closed its report by saying that it found no evidence of any wrong doing upon the part of Mr. Patterson, recommends the discontinuance of issuance of one check to pay more than one employee, and urges that in the future janitorial employees be hired only by S. G. Ligo, superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, and not by the janitors. Careful consideration of the physical qualifications of all applicants is urged.

Scores Sniping

"This whole procedure sounds phony to me" said Daniel B. Woolcock, president of the board. "It appears to me to be an attempt to get somebody. There has been too much sniping on this board and it is time it was stopped."

"Who told this committee that I recommended Mrs. Mooney?" asked Mrs. Dougherty.

"Mrs. Mooney herself," said J. H. McIlvenny, chairman of the committee.

"I did not know the woman," said Mrs. Dougherty, "and I would like the reference to me deleted from the report."

"That's merely the testimony," said McIlvenny.

"I am inclined to agree with the president," said W. W. Duff. An attempt seems to have been made to get somebody. It seems strange that this matter was allowed to run along for over a year before anything was said about it. However I think Mr. Ligo should see that one check covers only the services of one person."

"In the future I am going to be a little tougher in these matters than I have been," said Mr. Ligo.

"In fairness to Mr. Ligo," said McIlvenny, "the board should know that the practice of permitting janitors to hire their help was started when labor was scarce, long before Mr. Ligo was superintendent of Buildings and Grounds. In those days it was customary for the janitor to hire his wife to aid him and it was a good idea at that time for what labor was loose was not the kind that could do the work."

The committee report was signed by J. H. McIlvenny, A. W. Bauman and R. W. Hazen.

Fails To Divide Food With Wife

Mayor Mayne Sentences Man To Serve 10 Days In County Jail

Mayor Charles B. Mayne today presided over police court and sentenced a man who gave his name as John Holesko to 10 days in the county jail after his wife had testified that he had received food orders and had refused to share the food with her. The mayor gave orders that in the future the relief should be extended to Mrs. Holesko and not the husband.

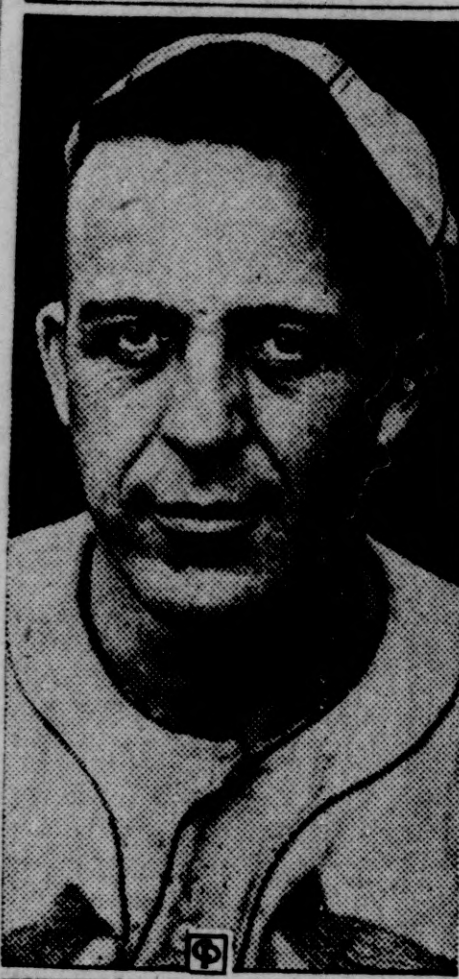

According to the police report the man is alleged to have been drunk and quarrelsome last night.

Police aid was requested and two city policemen removed Holesko to the city prison.

Mrs. Holesko appeared against him this morning and the mayor wasted little time sentencing him after hearing her story.

Ten Million Is Loss To State On Gallon Tax Plan

Estimate 5,000,000 Gallons Removed From State To Escape Taxes

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 14.—Pennsylvania lost $10,000,000 in liquor taxes because of the commonwealths antiquated constitution which requires the legislature six days to enact new law, according to Attorney General William A. Schnader.

"The bill imposing $2 per gallon floor tax on liquor and alcohol in the state was passed promptly," Schnader said last night in an address before the law academy of Philadelphia, "but before the six-day requirement of the constitution could be observed at least 5,000,000 gallons were removed from the state beyond taxing power."

District Clinic Is Started Here

Children From Surrounding Counties Brought Here
For Orthopedic Clinic

STATE SPECIALIST
DIRECTS PROGRAM

Regular Clinics Forecast By First One Wednesday At Jameson Hospital

There was an unusual clinic in the Jameson Memorial Hospital Wednesday afternoon. A clinic presided over by one of the modern "miracle men" an orthopedic surgeon, to which came boys and girls from all over Lawrence County, Beaver, Mercer, Butler, Venango, Crawford and Erie. It was an Orthopedic Clinic, put on by Dr. Francis S. Chambers, superintendent of the Children's Hospital in Elizabethtown, a state project.

About sixty boys and girls were brought to the clinic by their parents, all of them deformed in some manner or other. Many of them had withered legs, the aftermath of the dread infantile paralysis, others had been victims of osteomyelitis, still others with club feet, curvature of the spine, and bone displacements of varied character.

Hope and pity were intermingled there. As one looked at the twisted, deformed limbs of the youngsters even the most hardened could not avoid a great wave of pity that welled up inside. But with the pity came hope, hope and confidence that through the skill of Dr. Chambers most of them would be enabled to walk again nearly as normally as other children.

The clinic was the outcome of a visit to New Castle some time ago of Dr. Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health for Pennsylvania. He was asked if he would provide an Orthopedic Clinic here at times and his reply was that he would. The clinic Wednesday was the result, and it is planned to hold similar clinics from time to time. Working with Dr. Chambers was the Lawrence County Medical Director, Dr. H. C. Harper.

New Castle people will be interested to know that Dr. Chambers' assistant is a New Castle man, Dr. Ralph Markley of South Mill street who has been stationed in the Elizabethtown Hospital since his graduation from Medical school two years ago. He is a brother of Maurice and Julius Markley, South Side business men.

With Dr. Chambers and Dr. Markley were Miss Emma Grutinger, Orthopedic Field Superintendent, Miss Lucile Pike, secretary, and a group of state nurses stationed in this district. All day long the group labored with the youngsters who had been brought in. Some of them have been under treatment for some time, others will need operations and still others need but certain little corrective measures to give them foot stability.

Watching the boys and girls going in and out of the clinic room one was reminded of another scene nearly two thousands years ago when the Great Healer said "suffer little children to come unto me."

RUSSIA MORE MORAL THAN U. S., SAYS OHIOAN

(International News Service)
AKRON, O.—Moral conditions in Russia are far better than in the United States, according to William Hoover, who has returned to his native city here after serving the Russian government as consulting engineer for rubber and asbestos companies.

"There are no street walkers, no red light districts in Russia," he reported. "That is because there is no luxury."

He stated that the Soviet cities are growing so fast that housing accommodations cannot keep pace.

Sponsler May Be State Secretary Of Liquor Board

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 14.—The job of secretary of the new Pennsylvania liquor control board may go to William A. Sponsler, assistant director of the budget, according to persons close to administration circles today. This post, carrying with it the function of administrative officer of the board after the first mad rush to get the liquor laws functioning is over, was originally expected to be offered to John D. Pennington, former prohibition administrator.

Pennington was boomed for the job after efforts to land him a membership on the board of three failed. Some opposition to him is said to have arisen over the fact that he is in the employ of the federal government.

October Loans Are $590,000,000

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The Reconstruction Finance Corp. authorized loans and commitments totaling more than $590,000,000 during October, a new high monthly figure, according to its report filed with the clerk of the house today.

The advances include $236,104,543 for financial institutions and railroads, and $50,000,000 to the huge commodity credit corporation formed by President Roosevelt, comparatively little of the huge total has actually been disbursed.

The exceedingly high total includes advances to many government bureaus, including advances under the law by which the RFC finances relief work of the federal government.

HUGE LINDEN TREES SAFELY TRANSPLANTED

(International News Service)
FRAMINGHAM, Mass.—Two English linden trees, each weighing five tons and 25 years old, were carefully lifted from their place at a large nursery by a crane, hoisted over a 17-foot wall and placed aboard a truck for an 18-mile ride by motor truck to Boston.

The roots of the trees were wrapped in burlap for the journey. The entire task from start to the departure of the trucks required five hours.

The medal was founded by associates and friends of the late Thomas A. Edison.

ODD DISCREPANCY OF UP AND DOWN LAW

(International News Service)
BOSTON—It is a law of physics that "what goes up must come down," but imagine scientific embarrassment when mathematical figures show that of the 16,000 persons who use the elevators in the new federal building daily, 8,500 persons go up, but the cars carry only 7,500 down. But it was all cleared up when building authorities revealed that the discrepancy is due to the desire of some to indulge in stair-walking exercise. But they all take the less vigorous form—walked down instead of up.

TON OF DYNAMITE STRIKES PEDESTRIAN

(International News Service)
DENVER—Alexander Greig, 77, knows how it feels to be hit with a ton of dynamite. A truck driven by John Wigandt, Jr., of La Salle, Colo., and containing 2,500 pounds of dynamite, hit Greig as he was crossing a downtown Denver street. Wigandt told police he did not know of a city ordinance against transporting explosives without a permit.

Police said that if the explosives had been discharged several of Denver's largest hotels would have been wrecked.

Suggests Survey Of State Forests

HARRISBURG, Dec. 14.—A stock survey of the State Forests, the largest ever to be conducted in Pennsylvania, has been recommended by Secretary Lewis E. Staley, of the Departments of Forests and Waters, to be carried on during the coming winter by members of the Civilian Conservation Corps.

The proposed survey will be in the nature of a gigantic inventory to find out the kind and amount of standing timber, and its rate of growth, on 15 State Forests comprising about one million acres. The crews of about 8 men each under the supervision of the E. C. W. Camp foresters.

May Cut Hillside At Rural Avenue

Judging from discussion today in city hall the city council may ask Administrator Round of the CWA to have the hillside immediately this side of Rural Avenue graded so a semi-circle roadway can replace the sharp turn at Neshannock and Rural avenues. It is also believed that there will be a municipal bathing pool built on the west side of Neshannock avenue approximately at the place where once a bathhouse stood.

New York Mother Kills Her Children; Commits Suicide

Returns Home From Work And Finds Wife And Children Dead

GAS FUMES USED TO TAKE LIVES

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Ralph Campbell returned to his Brooklyn home early today and smelled gas. He traced it to the kitchen. There, her two small daughters clasped to her breast, his wife Irene, 31, lay dead.

Mrs. Campbell had turned on all the burners of a gas range, extinguished the lights in the house and hugged the children to her breast while the three succumbed to the gas fumes.

Campbell told police his wife had suffered a nervous breakdown recently. Police worked for an hour with pulmotors to revive Mrs. Campbell and the children, Rosemary, 6, and Gertrude, 2, but their efforts were futile.

Brown Finds Rules Are Easily Evaded In Assembly Hall

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Dec. 14.—Rep. John E. Brown, Washington Democrat, regarded by many as the "Will Rogers" of Pennsylvania's general assembly, differs with house officials over the meaning of various rules.

As a result of a recent discussion, Brown is convinced rules governing house legislative procedure do not mean a thing.

During a roll call on adjournment Brown asked the chair if members did not have to be in their seats to vote. The chair gave a different interpretation to the rule.

Members may be recorded as long as they are in the house chamber, the presiding officer said.

Disgusted, Brown produced a "blue book" containing legislative procedure rules. Standing on the floor of the chamber before members, he tore it into several pieces. As the paper drifted to the floor, he took his seat, convinced one's opinion is immaterial when it is not convenient to the occasion.

Bank Robber Is Sentenced

Angelo Ferruccio Given 9-18 Years; Again Implicates Spano

MERCER, Pa., Dec. 14.—Judge J. A. McLaughry sentenced Angelo Ferruccio, 26, Canton, Ohio, to pay a $1,000 fine and serve 8 to 16 years in the Western Penitentiary on the first count of two in the indictment returned by the grand jury, to which he pleaded guilty. The charge was robbery with threats. On the second count of larceny the sentence was costs, $100 fine and one to two years in the same prison. The sentences run concurrently. Sentence was imposed at the afternoon court session and followed the jury return of guilty on the same charges of his brother Patsy, 18, at the morning session. Patsy will be sentenced Friday.

The two have been held since October 18 charged with the robbery of the First National bank of Fredonia on this date when $4106.25 was taken.

Ferruccio charged Joe Spano of Greenville was with him in the robbery in a statement to the court prefacing his sentencing.

He made the same charge last week, and following the arrest and arraignment of Spano on December 9, repudiated his story, claiming that "Happy" Merino of Youngstown was his accomplice. Spano was released. He stated today that his brother was innocent of the crime and claimed that Spano alone was implicated.

OFFICIALS AWAIT FOUR MONTHS PAY

These workers, who haven't been paid for four months, may get three months' pay between now and Christmas. A large part of the $300,000 will be paid in scrip, but merchants have voiced their willingness to accept it at face value.

FISHER BROTHERS

On Court House Hill

Over one hundred persons who have been paroled by the court make regular reports to Parole Officer J. M. Dunlap. In some cases where paroles are granted, provision is made for the payment of costs in installments and Mr. Dunlap collects these installments. In other cases the paroles merely report their conduct. It is seldom that a person who has been paroled gets into trouble again.

Fireman E. C. McCracken finds that rooms occupied by the county commissioners for a private office are the hardest to heat during a cold snap. This is probably for the reason that they are located in the extreme southwest corner of the court house, the farthest from the heating plant. It has been found that court room No. 2 in the southwest corner, is harder to heat than court room No. 1, which is surrounded on three sides by inner walls.

Burt Dinsmore, with a force of men, are repairing Eckert's bridge, through which the truck of A. P. Stoner recently crashed. New joists and flooring are required. Commissioners will have a sign placed on the bridge, showing its carrying capacity.

Sheriff Frank Johnston, who will retire from office on January 1st, says that he has made no plans for the future. He expects to get into something by next spring.

Delinquent Tax Collector, Edward Umbright, is still stationed at the county treasurer's office, where he will receive delinquent taxes until the duplicates are ready for him to take to his office on Washington street.

Letters testamentary have been issued to Howard D. Cunningham in the estate of the late Martha Jane Hannon. In the estate of the late Sarah E. Bovard of this city, letters of administration have been issued to J. Frank Bovard.

When sheriff-elect, Edward Pritchard, assumes office on January 1 he will realize what it means to be father of a big family. His family won't exactly sit around the family board and say, "please pass the potatoes" or "let me have a little more cow," but it will be real just the same, and he will soon find that making soup for a jail full of prisoners, or cutting bread to appease mass appetites, will be a novel experience.

But Pritchard will have the advantage in not being compelled to consult the appetites as to the particular food desired on the bill of fare. All that is required of the sheriff is that he provides good, clean, wholesome food. There need not be a big variety at any one meal, but the different kinds must be rotated, just as the farmer rotates his crops. While Ed will have to bring home the bacon, Mrs. Pritchard will be really boss of the kitchen, just as Mrs. Frank Johnston has been the culinary department during Johnston's term of office, and just as other sheriffs' wives before her, have shared in this important responsibility.

Sheriff Frank Johnston says that he has been feeding the prisoners on from 18 to 22 cents a day. Formerly, when the sheriff was allowed 50 cents per day, he made the difference between what it cost to keep the prisoners, and what he received. Since the sheriff's office was placed on a salary basis, the county gets the saving.

Sheriff and Mrs. Johnston furnish almost everything in the eatable line to the prisoners, but not much of a variety at any one time. For instance there will be prunes, bread and coffee for breakfast on one day; roast pork and mashed potatoes for dinner, and salmon, cakes and bread and coffee for supper. Then the next day there may be shredded wheat, bread and coffee for breakfast; meat or some kind of soup, bread and coffee for dinner, and onions, meat and bread and coffee for supper. Bills of fare are made out for a week or two at a time and the menu is rotated to the best advantage.

As there are generally from 25 to 60 in jail at a time, the preparation of three meals a day is no small item, and generally keeps the culinary department on the jump all the time. When the meals are prepared in the kitchen adjoining the jail, they are placed on trays which are taken to an opening to the jail corridor, through which they are passed to the prisoners. The prisoners sit around on benches while they enjoy their "lap lunches," and then take the trays back to the attendants in the sheriff's kitchen.

As a general rule, when a man knocks matrimony it's equivalent to a confession that he was too dumb to pick the right sort of wife.

FACTS not CLAIMS emphasize Essolene's position of Leadership

Leadership of a product, like the leadership of an organization, is a matter of performance, not promises, of facts, not claims. Despite the exaggerated gasoline advertising which seems to be the fashion, Essolene, from the time it was introduced, has had but a single message.

Essolene has guaranteed smoother performance—and has asked the public to be the judge. Today, in every part of the vast territory where it is sold, Essolene is making new sales records. This is a fact, not a claim. Thousands have voluntarily written in to commend the mileage, power and economy of this motor fuel. This is a fact, not a claim.

Thanks to the common sense of the American motorist on whose judgment we relied, it never was and it never will be necessary to exaggerate the merits of a product whose qualities are so outstanding as those of Essolene.

HARRISBURG, Dec. 14.—Sitting as a judicial body, the house of representatives today had decided that a bill introduced by Rep. Darlington Hoopes, Berks county Socialist, is unconstitutional and therefore should be removed from the calendar. The Hoopes bill was drawn to regulate the payment of wages or compensation for labor or service in private employments, providing for regular pay days and fixing penalties for failure of employers to pay at regular intervals.

Keep Check On Meter Testers

State Laboratory Keeps Meter Provers Of Utilities Accurate

LABORATORY IS ONE OF MOST COMPLETE

HARRISBURG, Dec. 14.—The standardization laboratory of the Public Service Commission has been moved from a privately owned building in Harrisburg to the state-owned Publications building. The change was made by the commission in the interests of economy and to permit expansion of the laboratory's work.

The laboratory is one of the most complete in the country for testing the accuracy of meter provers used by public service companies in testing the meters of their patrons. Its equipment and apparatus are valued at approximately $45,000.

The laboratory is practically self-sustaining. By an act of assembly passed in 1923, the commission is required to charge a fee for all laboratory work. The fee for all type of instrument tested is given in the act. Fees collected have averaged approximately $15,000 a year.

The laboratory has been operating since 1915. It has been of benefit to the public and to the utilities. This is evidenced by the improvement in utility laboratories and measuring devices. The service rendered by the laboratory has increased the accuracy of test methods. Many utilities have used it as a model when installing their own laboratories.

The Public Service Company law requires every public service company furnishing service on a meter basis to provide suitable apparatus for testing and proving the accuracy of their meters. The law also imposes on the Public Service Commission the duty of inspecting these testing facilities with regard to suitability, adequacy and accuracy.

Doomed Prisoner Refuses Operation To Save His Life

Sing Sing Death House Prisoner Has Acute Appendicitis; Refuses Aid

(International News Service)
OSSING, N. Y., Dec. 14.—Still obdurate in his refusal to permit Sing Sing prison surgeons to operate for appendicitis, a man who claims to be the state's most "unemployable" inmate, today was reported "resting comfortably" in his death cell, attended by an inmate nurse.

Caccamise, condemned to death for the murder of Edmund P. Van Dyke in Monroe county, may die from his affliction unless he submits to the operation, Dr. Charles Sweet, chief prison surgeon, said.

The youthful prisoner made no objection to the operation until he reached the table in the hospital. There, as an ether mask was being placed over his face, he sat up and announced:

"I won't go through with it."

Astounded prison officials had him returned to his cell where ice packs were applied to relieve pain.

different directions. Asked yesterday if any arrangement had been made for the city to secure a tree, Stanley Treser, councilman, said, "not to his knowledge."

There is quite a little discussion in city hall as to who will be the next county detective as that official had considerable dealing with the city police officials. He is called in on all important cases and it is necessary that the closest co-operation and harmonious relation exist. There are now included on the city police department several men who have held the position, namely, M. J. Young, who served during the Muse administration as district attorney, and George Kennedy, who served under Prosecutor Bryan.

Just a tired, hungry, thirsty dog. He trotted aimlessly, dodging automobiles and street cars in Washington street. He followed among the Christmas shoppers seeking his master. He may have been turned loose, having outlived his usefulness. At the outset of the past season he would have brought a pretty penny as he is a hound, has black and white markings and a flash of brown on his nose.

Along came a bespectacled gentleman. They both looked at each other. The man started off. The dog followed him along the street, up three flights of stairs in the city building and trudged behind the man into his private office. The man who took compassion on the dog and let him get warm is Bob White, city solicitor. City hall girls raised a fund and it wasn't long until the dog was fed and watered.

BUILDERS INDUCT AT OPEN PROGRAM

Westminster Head Speaks As Officers Take Oath; Dinner Features

Climaxed by a fitting address by President Robert F. Galbreath of Westminster College, New Castle's Order of the Builders last night conducted at the Cathedral a most impressive public installation of officers for the coming year.

Before an audience of parents and friends of the members in the state's East lodge room, the following officers were formally inducted after a dinner in the West dining room:

Master builder, Robert Allen; deputy master builder, Howard Gresham; senior inspector, William Fox; junior inspector, Jack Mechling; senior overseer, David Gatrall; junior overseer, Ralph Davies; secretary, Charles Cotton; treasurer, George Maud; marshal, William Ice; stewards, Walter Conover, John Phillips, W. Herbert Grossman and Charles Dinsmore; chaplain, Robert Johnson, and sentinel, Glenn McClurg.

At the dinner, served by the Rainbow Girls, an orchestra composed of young Builders played.

Omar Donaldson, the retiring master of the chapter, presided during the opening ceremonies last night and then withdrew for the message of Dr. Galbreath.

Past masters of the local chapter, No. 1, one of the leading units of the national organization of youths of high school and junior college age, are Donaldson, whose duties ended last night, John Templeton, William R. Stoner, Robert Golder, John D. Thompson, Sam McBride, Joe McGaffie and George Solomon.

Adult advisors of the chapter include John B. Haley, Sr., chairman; John B. Birgman, John H. Templeton, Dr. Philip C. Pearson, Dr. C. S. Bennett, Albert Hewitt, W. Stanley Treser, Roy Gibson, Griff Thomas, Fred C. Wolford, J. C. Dufford, James L. Fink, Floyd Chapman and H. E. Doerr.

Practically all of the triennial assessments for 1934, 1935 and 1936 have been completed and it wouldn't be surprising were the assessed valuation for taxation purposes found to have shrunk several million dollars below the assessed valuation for 1933. A cut of about 10 per cent has taken place in all wards and it is said that in a ward where there are quite a few industries the cut may be larger. It will not be until after December 19 that the city fathers will know the assessed valuation for taxation purposes.

There was a time here when every clubhouse, every hotel and also the police station erected Christmas trees to show the holiday spirit. It is probable that some of the clubs, hotels and probably the police station will do likewise this year. So far as is known no arrangements have been made for a Christmas tree on the public square. In some years gone by it could be seen from four

Ex-Senator Reed Marries Divorcee

Woman Kidnaped In 1931 Is Bride of Fiery Western Senator

MRS. NELL DONNELLY BECOMES REED'S BRIDE

(International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 14.—James A. Reed, ex-U. S. senator from Missouri, today was speeding eastward on a ten day honeymoon with his bride, the former Mrs. Nell O. Donnelly, following their surprise marriage here.

The ceremony last night culminated a long friendship between the 72-year-old Democratic leader and Mrs. Donnelly, wealthy garment manufacturer, who was kidnaped December 16, 1931 and held for $75,000 ransom. Mrs. Reed is 43.

Acting as Mrs. Donnelly's attorney, former Senator Reed took a leading part in the search for the kidnappers, his threat to send the captives "to the gallows" if their captors were harmed was believed to have led to her release without payment of ransom.

Judge John C. Pollock of the United States district court of Kansas performed the wedding ceremony at the bride's apartment following a dinner party attended by a few intimate friends of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed left on a ten day wedding trip. Reed refused to disclose the honeymoon destination, but said their first stop would be in Chicago, where they were due to arrive today.

Reed obtained the marriage license only shortly before the dinner party at which the guests dined on wild duck and venison shot by the former senator on a recent hunting trip.

Mrs. Reed divorced her husband, Paul Donnelly, last year after 26 years of married life. Reed's wife, Mrs. Laura Alstead Reed of Cedar Rapids, Ia., died October 12, 1932 after a marriage of 45 years duration.

Mrs. Reed has taken an active part in Democratic politics in Missouri in recent years.

The Reeds plan to make their home here at the former senator's spacious residence.

M. A. Mulcahy, local contractor, has been given the state contract for the quarrying, loading and hauling of stone for the road which is to be improved between New Wilmington and Volant. Approximately 10,248 tons will be needed. It is to be a state and federal aid road. Mulcahy stated today he would select the workmen, about 50 a week, from the CWA ranks. Each employee will work 30 hours a week.

Mining Trouble Is Frustrated

Action In Rushing State Police To Fayette County Foils Intended Outbreak

(International News Service)
UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 14.—Prompt action in rushing state police to Fayette county this week was supposed to have stopped a huge labor plot at Grindstone and Rowe's Run, Colonial No. 4 and No. 3 respectively, of the Frick mines. Attorney Anthony Cavalcante, personal observer for Governor Pinchot today disclosed.

Cavalcante said he was informed of the labor plot by telephone and got in touch with Governor Pinchot at midnight Monday.

"When they (state police) arrived they found a large force of deputies and brotherhood men on the scene," Cavalcante declared. He believes that what might have been a serious outbreak was prevented.

About 90 men were on strike at Colonial No. 4 mine, with miners from other plants expected to join.

Several hundred miners worked at Colonial No. 4 without a check-weighman. Brotherhood members insisted they would not pay an assessment to such an official.

Agenda Club To Play In League At Youngstown

Jewish Basketball Team Of New Castle Will Again Try For Youngstown Title

At a meeting held in Youngstown last night plans for the opening of the Jewish basketball league were made. The league will start the first week in January. The games will be played at the armory floor on Rayen avenue. Wednesday nights will be playing nights. The reason for the change in floors was made due to the large crowds.

Teams entered in the league are the B. M. D. club of Youngstown (last year's champs), Richman club, Farrell Y. M. H. A., Warren Y. M. H. A. and Agenda club of New Castle. Lots were drawn for the opening night and the Agenda team will meet the Warren team and the B. M. D. team will play the Richmans. New suits of blue jerseys and white trunks have been secured for the Agenda club this year. The following will be given new uniforms: "Sak" Levin, Swirsky, Rogovin, Shifman, Joe Solomon, H. Rosenberg, Hy Levin, "Hearts" Levine, S. Rosenberg, I. Solomon and Baron.

Year Takes Heavy Relief Load Off County's Hands; Now Handles Normal Cases

Responsible now for only the "unemployable" cases existing in Lawrence county, County Welfare Officer M. B. Hogue and his small office staff today are kept engaged administering to the needs of aged, destitute persons and other unfortunate, who, because of physical disabilities, cannot earn their own support.

Picture Changed Today

It's a far, far cry, indeed, from a year ago today, when Mr. Hogue's Court street office was the bustling center of all relief work, to today, when office records list only slightly more than 150 "unemployable" persons reporting to him for help.

Under the new federal-state plan adopted last summer, the Lawrence County Emergency Relief board created to handle the abnormally heavy relief job, cares for the "employable" applicants—persons who could work if the jobs were provided.

County Welfare Officer Hogue a year ago passed months directing what without a doubt will be remembered as one of Lawrence county's most gigantic tasks—the relief activities of the winter of '32-'33. This year, however, the emergency relief office is charged with administering that work.

Normal Jobs Are His

Under Mr. Hogue's direction continues the normal welfare department work of the county, including the operation of Lawrence County Home on the Ellwood City road, the medical relief work for the "unemployables" and the other numerous tasks that befall any county welfare officer.

At the Lawrence County Emergency Relief office it was announced yesterday that 3,455 relief cases—all of the "employable" type—were being handled on December 1.

The transfer of the supervision of emergency relief from the county to the state, for the emergency board is directed by the state, came after the federal government notified authorities everywhere that it would shut off its federal relief appropriation unless the emergency board was extended full relief authority.

Prospects For Cheaper Liquor Greatly Dimmed

Heavy Taxation On Legalized Liquor Will Keep Cost At High Level

GALLONAGE TAX PLAN SPURNED

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Prospects for cheap liquor were greatly dimmed today as the federal and state governments drifted toward a race to exact the limit of taxation of the new legal liquor industry.

The proposal of the president's interdepartmental committee for one super gallonage tax on liquor to be collected by the federal government and divided with the states was virtually discarded as a result of the joint hearing of the senate finance and house ways and means committee.

The committee's plan to distribute 20 per cent of a $2.60 a gallon liquor tax to the states had been indignantly attacked by Henry W. Tull of Denver, Colo., as spokesman for the interstate committee on conflicting taxation, embracing legislators and tax authorities of many states.

Heavy Taxation.
The counter proposal of toll for a greater division of revenues based upon population and the wet areas had been informally spurned by members of the senate finance and house ways and means committee. Congressional leaders on taxation agreed that congress in all probability will insist upon levying a federal liquor tax without reference to the states.

And with many states already levying taxes of 90 to $1.10 a gallon on liquor—a tax exclusively regarded as a federal tax before prohibition—heavy taxation was considered certain.

Opinion Refuses Tax Exoneration

School Solicitor Says School Tax Exoneration Requests Cannot Be Granted

In a written opinion to the school board on Wednesday night, Solicitor William J. Moffat recommended that the request of R. T. Withers for a partial exoneration for taxes on his building at the corner of Highland and Leasure avenues be refused. The building was damaged by fire some time ago, and since that time it has been in course of improvement.

Mr. Moffat stated in his opinion that the law prohibited school boards from exonerating any taxes where the city board of revision has not revised the assessment value of the property in question. This has not been done in the Withers case and the request was accordingly refused. Two other requests for exoneration were refused, one from John Castrucci, who bought a piece of property on Cedar street on which the house had been removed but for which he was still taxed, and one from W. S. Thelma on Front street whose home was damaged by fire. Both requests were referred to the solicitor.

House Passes McElwee Bill

Prohibit License Where Majority Voted Against Sale Of Beer

MEASURE NOW IN HANDS OF SENATE

Among the bills which were passed by the House and sent to the Senate of the Pennsylvania legislature last evening, was the bill of Representative William McElwee, Jr., of New Wilmington, which prohibits the granting of liquor licenses in communities which voted against the retail sale of beer at the November election.

There were a great many communities in the state of Pennsylvania who voted down the sale of hard liquors can be granted in these communities, regardless of the sentiment of the people. The McElwee measure would end this practice.

Coal Bill Given Board Approval

Settlement of a coal bill from Maxwell and Gibson was ordered by the school board Wednesday night in the amount of $1427.35, which represents an increase of 33 cents per ton over the original price, caused by NRA code changes. This factor was taken into consideration when the contract was made out. Deals About All Completed; Cleveland Will Keep Earl Averill

CUBS WANT TO DITCH MALONE

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Staff Editor

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—Having punched itself out in the first round on Tuesday when the venerable Mr. Mack up to the bat with a $275,000 buyout, the Cubs have been told by the Red Sox, Mickey Cochrane to Detroit and George Earnshaw to the White Sox, the annual major league convention came out of its corner, leg weary and tongue tied today. So it did the natural thing. It went into a clinch. Another name for the latter is the joint meeting of the two leagues. Here they will consider the uniform ball, radio broadcasting and other unimportant matters, gravely, ponderously and possibly to no purpose. That's why it's called a joint meeting. Only a joint would stand for that sort of thing.

Deals About All Made
Of course, there remained a few incomplete details, some of which, in fact, probably never was started. Full many a trade has started in the newspapers—and finished there. This is not necessarily true of the rumored Earl Averill-Oscar Melillo deal. That is, it may not have started in the newspapers. But it probably will finish there. The Indians, having moved back to their old park for next season, naturally figure Averill to start hitting them all the way off the landscape again. Anyhow, they say they are not particularly interested in an Averill deal, by this time, neither am I.

Hudlin For Hayes
Cleveland, at that, may make a trade of Willis Hudlin, pitcher. For Jack Hayes, second baseman of the White Sox. But this, on the possibility that the reported New York-Chicago transaction involving shortstop Luke Appling versus Lyn Lary, Charley Ruffing and Sam Byrd, is consummated and, as far as both sides are concerned to date, it has had too little of consummation and too much of that is involved.

Meaning Branch Rickey of St. Louis and Max Carey of Brooklyn.

have been mumbling vaguely to each other about something for upward of three days. The general theory being that it has to do with Joe Stripp and Ernie Orsatti. But as far as Brooklyn goes, it can finish all it has to say about Joe Stripp in three minutes. The Messrs. Stripp and Carey are understood. In fact, to be very deeply estranged; so much so that the manager will have to dismiss either Joseph or himself and he may not feel that he ought to do that.

Malone To Go
The same way, the Cubs seem to have reached the inevitable impasse with a bellicose party known as Percy "Pat" Malone. The first name being a little deceptive. They said last night that the Braves wanted him. But it turned out that what the Braves wanted was the man the Cubs impulsively decided to take away from them. Mr. "Pinky" Whitney. The Phillies also were mentioned, which established a precedent. The Phillies have been so inconspicuous here that their manager, Burt Shotton, stayed away and it took three days to miss him.

Anyhow, it is established that the Cubs no longer desire Mr. Malone and this seems to make it unanimous. Perhaps it would be simpler to have him destroyed.

Joe Bach, Stuhldreher, Neale And Miller are Mentioned For Coaching Job

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 14.—A successor to Elmer Layden, who recently yielded his dual coaching-athletic director post at Duquesne University for a like office at Notre Dame, his alma mater, may be named tonight at the annual alumni banquet. There has been no definite assurance that a coach for the 1934 season will be appointed at tonight's dinner, since the Duquesne athletic director has been "snowed under" by scores of applications and would like time to consider each.

Joe Bach, line coach under Layden, according to all "dope" has an inside track to the vacancy. Other names before the council are rumored to include Harry Stuhldreher, Villanova coach, Earle "Greasy" Neale, West Virginia mentor and Don Miller, a member of the "four horsemen" who abandoned coaching to practice law.

PACKAGE APPLES MUST BE MARKED

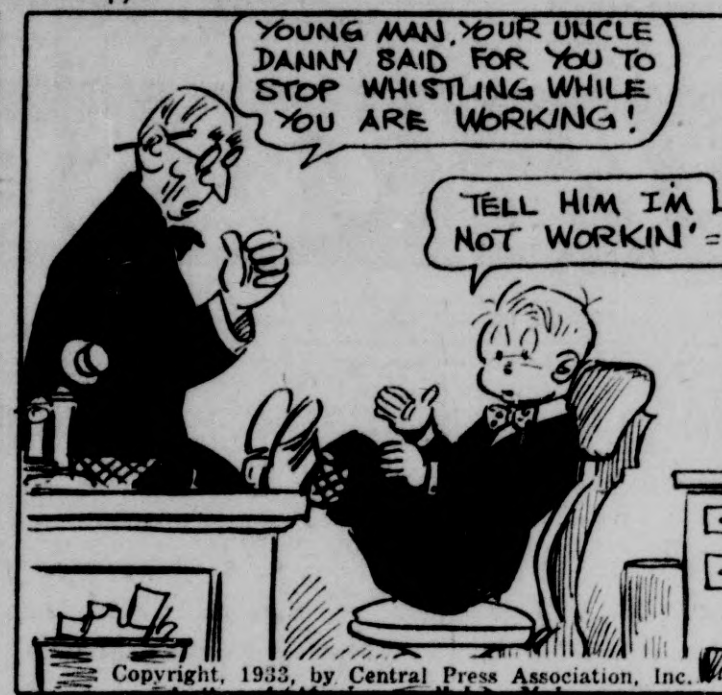

HARRISBURG, Dec. 14.—In order that consumers may know just what they are buying, Pennsylvania apples packed in closed baskets, cartons, boxes or barrels must be marked with the true name of the variety, the minimum size or numerical count and the name and address of the person by whose authority the apples were packed. George A. Stuart, director, bureau of markets, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, said today.

The purpose of the act is to prevent deception or fraud due to the placing of inferior apples in a closed package. It is not only designed to protect the purchaser but also the producer of the apples.

Light Trading;
Stocks HigherCommunications Group Lead
In Market Strength
TodayBy LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial WriterNEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Stocks worked higher in light trading today with activity centering on no special group. The communications issues were strong on the news that a merger of the leading units was being worked out.The commodity markets also showed an improved tone with wheat and the other grains scoring moderate gains. The cotton market was steady with trading moderate.Postal Telegraph preferred and Radio Corp. common and preferred were the favorites in the communications issues, gaining from fractions to about 1 point in moderately active trading. Western Union,
American Telephone and International Telephone also were in demand and gained fractionally.While there was comparatively little activity in the rail shares the undertone here was strong. Delaware & Hudson ran up more than a point. Atchafalaya, New York Central, Lackawanna and Southern Railway scored lesser gains.Prime industrial shares including United States Steel, American Can and Bethlehem Steel and others in the same category received a better grade of support than yesterday, gaining fractionally.Chrysler was a strong spot in the motors, gaining more than a point.
Auburn again gave a demonstration of its volatility by running up more than 2 points before meeting with profit taking. General Motors scored a fractional gain.Action of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. in making no change in the gold price for the twelfth successive business day was ignored by the mining shares today. United States Smelting was strong and about 2 points higher. Alaska Juneau and other lower priced issues also received a fair amount of support.Utility shares again showed signs of more aggressive sponsorship under the lead of North American,
Consolidated Gas and American Water Works.STOCK PRICES

Congress Hostile Toward Plans Of Currency Fixing

Reports Of Tri-Party Agreement Between England, France And United States Brings Comment

STABILIZATION PLANS ADVANCED

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—Reports of a tri-party agreement, between England, France and the United States for stabilization of the American dollar at the present gold price of $34.01 per ounce, today brought fresh threats of a congressional battle over currency expansion.

In the face of treasury denials, rumors persisted that the Bank of England, the Bank of France and the Federal Reserve Board had agreed to stabilize exchange at the latest American gold price. This price has been maintained for eleven days by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, government agency in the gold-buying campaign. The $34.01 value incidentally was fixed by Professor George F. Warren, Cornell, agricultural expert, who is an unofficial monetary adviser to the Roosevelt administration.

Little Reaction
This was revealed to a group of senators recently by Jesse L. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Previously, it was believed either the Treasury or the Federal Reserve Board fixed the gold price. The prices, fixed by Warren, had devaluated the American gold dollar by about 35 percent. This was accomplished by increasing the price of gold to $34.01 per ounce.

The effect has been a real devaluation of the American dollar in international exchange, but it has brought little domestic reaction because the government has bought very little gold at that price.

Pre-School Survey Planned For City

Group Of "White Collar" Class To Be Given CWA Jobs By Project

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, presented a CWA project to the school board Wednesday night which will provide employment for about 25 of the so-called "white collar" class. The projects provides for a pre-school survey of the city which will give the school authorities valuable information concerning the number of pupils that will enter the schools in the next year or two.

Dr. Green also explained that this survey would show certain known physical defects and that the parents could be advised of the importance of seeing their family physicians, and that they could also be advised of the necessity of vaccination and immunization. There will be no cost to the board and the project was approved. It is planned to use a number of persons who are qualified to teach but who are denied that privilege because of retrenchment.

Insull Applies For New Permit

Should Greece Refuse Insull New Residence Permit He May Be Brought Back To U. S.

(International News Service)
ATHENS, Dec. 14.—With his freedom in Greece hanging in the balance, Samuel Insull today applied for a renewal of his residence permit, the document which at present stands between him and trial on fraudulent bankruptcy charges in the United States.

The application was referred to the home office for consideration. Government leaders have intimated lately to United States state department representatives that the resident permit, expiring at the end of the year, may not be renewed.

Man Forces Way Into City Jail

Alleged Intoxicated Man Inquires For Mayor; Finds Cell

One of the surest ways of breaking into the city jail is to become intoxicated, travel to the city hall and make inquiry for the mayor or some of the police.

Yesterday a local man is alleged to have become intoxicated and made inquiry for the mayor and certain police. A sergeant took note of his condition.

The sergeant ordered him incarcerated so, as the report said: "He will be in condition to see the mayor better when the mayor arrives." Later he placed a forfeit and obtained his freedom.

Betty Compson Marries On Train

(International News Service)

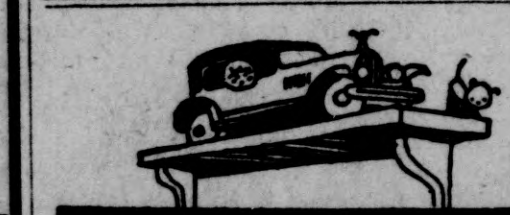

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Dec. 14. Betty Compson, screen actress, and her husband, Irving Weinberg, sped westward today on a honeymoon trip that will take them to Agua Caliente and possibly to Shanghai.

The two were married on the observation platform of a west-bound passenger train as it passed through Albuquerque last night. Mayor Clyde Tingley of Albuquerque, gave the bride away.

Weinberg has been Miss Compson's manager for the past four years. The couple will make their home in Hollywood following the honeymoon.

Board Will Not Sell Corner Plot

In a communication to the school board Wednesday night, J. B. Foster advised the board that he had a client who was interested in buying the property at the corner of North Jefferson and Grant streets, owned by the school board. The board's answer is that if the client is interested in buying the whole plot they will be glad to deal. Otherwise no, as the corner is the most valuable piece of the property.
